

"DEMON" DICK DETAILS DOINGS DOWN EAST AND UP STATE ON THE GRIDIRON

By DICK LEIPOLD.

Last Saturday was a great day for football in both college and schoolboy ranks. Dope was up, gridiron history made, and at least a score of teams raised to championship standing. Fighting spirit and an unyielding whistle drive enabled many an underdog to come through with victories.

W. and J., undefeated for two seasons, victor over Lafayette two weeks ago at the Polo Grounds and looked upon as one of the strongest Eastern eleven, was humbled by Pitt, 19 to 6. Pitt had lost two early season games to Lafayette and West Virginia, and were not generally conceded to have the smallest chance of winning over Nal's Presidents. Coach Warner's Pitt machine proved that a team can not live on its past record. End Jordan of the Panthers scored a touchdown. Jordan is a former Punxsutawney High School basketball star.

By defeating Yale 3 to 0, Princeton University finished their schedule undefeated and tied. Starting the season with material that the football experts proclaimed "just ordinary," Coach Bill Roper developed a machine that improved with each passing game. Roper does not believe in bringing a team up to top form during the early season games. Consequently, the Tigers' early season wins did not flout to the world the latent power they possessed, and it was not until the fighting Nassau outfit dropped Chicago 21 to 19 at Chicago that Princeton's greatness was recognized. Princeton stands out as the one great, yet undefeated Eastern team playing a truly tough schedule.

Cornell's 48 to 14 conquest over Albright College enabled the big Red machine to keep its record unmarred. The Ithicans, under Gil Doblie's tutelage, have not lost a game in two seasons. Eddie Kaw, all-American halfback last fall, is still playing his sensational type of game that won the coveted "all" position. The Cornell squad will go to Franklin Field, at Philadelphia, to meet Penn on Thanksgiving Day. If Pennsylvania can stop Cornell, Princeton will be the only unbeaten team in the East, and probably will be awarded the mythical Atlantic Championship.

Some Classic Schoolboy Classics.

Greensburg High's mighty machine won the State championship by downing Harrisburg Tech 27 to 20 at Harrisburg. The scoring strength of Greensburg against Tech at Harrisburg shows what Clearfield was up against at Greensburg.

Steeleton High, highly touted as one of the best scholastic aggregations in Pennsylvania, was shut out, 19 to 0, by Williamsport High School. The Steeleton never had a show, which makes the Red and Black's near-win over the downriver city all the more impressive. It also proves that the brand of football that Clearfield High is offering is on a par with the best bonafide schoolboy outfits in Pennsylvania.

school that the entire West should be proud of. When a team in any section of the country gets far enough advanced to claim a championship in any sport, the Cedar Rapids High School looms up, challenges, and wins from the best of them. These athletic westerners carried off national high school honors in truck and basketball last season. Last Saturday they journeyed east to Toledo, Ohio, and defeated Waite High, unbeaten organization, 25 to 13. The Iowans must have a phenomenal team, for to win from Waite, who had previously beaten Harrisburg Tech 52 to 7, is a job that some of the smaller colleges would shirk from attempting.

Some other scores:

Lock Haven, 34; Windber, 0.
Phillipsburg, 60; Juniata, 0.
Bellefonte Academy, 25; Bucknell Reserves, 12.
Kiski, 13; Pitt Fresh, 0.

Clearfield Scrubs Win Saturday.

With all the regulars in civilian clothes, Coach Reed sent his second eleven in against the Patton High gridders. Although the Cambria county lads had it on the locals in size, the junior varsity won, 13 to 0, in a game that was as interesting as the score would indicate. The second stringers put up an advanced type of football, offering a good offense, both aerial and orthodox, and tackled like veterans. The locals' scores were made through the line by Carns and Rowles. Carn dropkicked the extra point. Some promising men are on the scrub eleven, and by next season should develop into bright stars. The second string stars of the Patton clash, are too numerous to individualize. A glance at the line-up will suffice, as every man shone. These fellows are responsible for the regulars' fitness. They are like the unheard-of sparring partner who is cuffed about night after night to develop a champion. If the scrubs were to quit, the varsity would go to pieces in a couple of weeks.

The line-up:

YOUR BACK ACHE?

After Grip, "flu" or cold, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid) because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

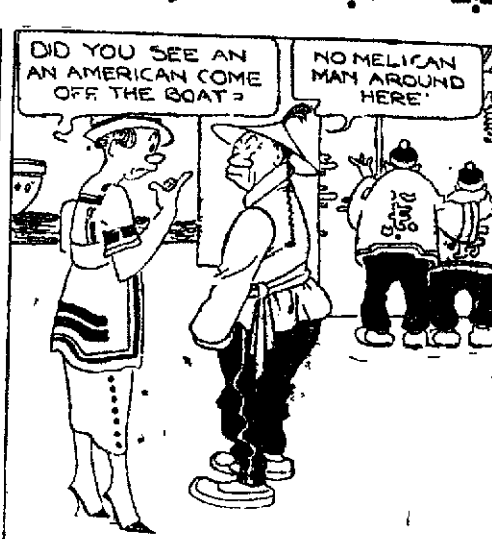

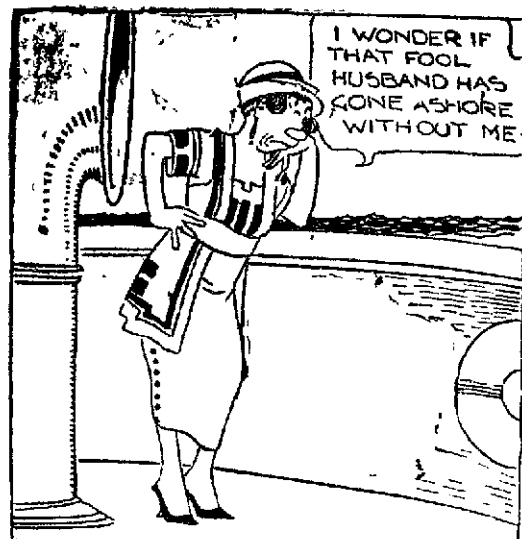

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Send Dr. Pierce's Invalide' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of Anuric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache remedy).

Many folks in town could testify as does Mr. Kane.

West Chester, Pa., "I have used Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets with the best possible results and would advise anyone with kidney trouble to give them a trial; I am confident they will not fail."—W. Lewis Kane, 215 S. Darlington St.

of reckoning hereafter in football circles in the central part of the state is the Cooper Township High School. Cooper just took up the college sport this year without any intention of becoming serious but when the coach discovered the material he had games were booked with several teams. Naturally they lost the first three games but with every game the boys got more confidence and took to the game like ducks to water Saturday afternoon they capped the climax by defeating Bellefonte High by the score of 13 to 0 and now they are going after their big sister Phillipsburg on Thanksgiving afternoon and are going to make a great effort to get even for the drubbing Phillipsburg gave them before they hit their stride. Phillipsburg defeated Juniata Saturday 60 to 0 but that only serves to whet the appetites of the revengeful Cooperites.

Americanization.
Appointment with Mr. Samuel Toney to discuss night school for Italians. After inquiry among them, Mr. Toney said the effort would be useless now as there is no demand.

Industrial Clubs.
Preparation all underground; discussion of plans with interested people. Much help expected from Woman's Clubs. Idea to provide pleasant organizations for young employed women between High School age and Junior Woman's Club.

Story Telling.
The story telling committee has been collecting material to use in the next playground season and is now planning a series of story hours for the smaller children under school age who do not have the advantage of that part of the school program.

Dramatic Institute.
The date for the arrival of the institute instructor, Mrs. Elizabeth Tanley, was set at November 13. Effort has been made to meet as many interested people as possible and arrange a meeting at which she will discuss the plans and aims of the institute.

Office Removal.
The Community Service office will move from the High School library to the small building at 213 Locust street.

Some stores think it is bad business to load up with stock for Thanksgiving—but we find that big business, like big fish, never swims in narrow streams.

That's why this week we made our plans to have so many more selections that you'll walk in here—even though you have to pass up a dozen other stores to get here. Enough goods to bring you in—and enough money's worth in satisfaction to bring you back.

METHODIST CHURCH EVENTS

Eleventh St. church was the center of interest for Methodist men in a movement started yesterday afternoon. It was a tri-church visitation, and it began popular with the first announcement. Trinity and West Side churches sent over a large representation, with Eleventh Street's own, made a full house. When male voices let go in songs that have an ever in or spring from the heart, the singing that stirred and thrilled to that warm-hearted praying then appealing speeches by seven men that know what they want and put it in direct, there is a sense of uplift and inspiration. Curtsville sent down five of its person-workers—Messrs. S. C. Watts, Shirhearer, Hess and Dale, who spoke to some of the spirit that now is associated with the church life in town. Then Buchanan and Boyette Junior, had their say. Next day the visitation will be to Try church.

Trinity church was in advance by attendance and in school yesterday, which woundled out by a splendid song by Harry W. Jones, the music let. Large communion with music. The League service was in attendance. At night a service that roused the entire church opened the meeting—forty voices. Choir loft full and pulpit ood to capacity. Then singing that the folks that seldom sing attempt it. Splendid choir select and a solo by Mr. Jones, entitled "Old Rugged Cross." Communion then an altar service. One son asking prayers. People have about and grouped themselves latter benediction. At Mount Rev. G. R. Alban was in charge of communion, preaching to the of a company that filled the house. The choir worked in Mr. Jones.

WELL KNOWN MINING MAN MARRIES

Philipsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—This (Saturday) morning, November 18th at 7 o'clock, Miss Martha Ann Myers of this place, was married to Mr. Charles E. Sharpless, of Ebensburg. The ceremony took place in the Presbyterian church and was conducted by the Rev. John T. Scott, pastor of that church, the ring ceremony being used. The bride wore a navy blue divetyn suit with beaver collar and cuffs and a black satin sole hat.

Miss Myers has made her home in Philipsburg for many years where she is very well known and highly esteemed. Mr. Sharpless is a well known mining and consulting engineer and is employed in that capacity by many of the largest coal mining companies in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. He was a resident of Philipsburg for many years.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony by automobile for Tyrone, from which place they will go to Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., New York and other places of interest in the east. They will make their home in Ebensburg where they have a home already furnished. They expect to be away about two weeks.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Whatever may be the popular judgment regarding the intellectual calibre of United States senators elected by direct vote of the people, as compared with the former method of electing them by the legislatures, there can be no question about the physical dimensions of the lawmakers. We are getting nowadays.

At the recent election more than a dozen new men were elected to the senate and they will make their first appearance in the upper legislative body when the next congress convenes a little over a year from now. With one or two exceptions, they are physical giants, most of them over six feet tall.

Probably the bulkiest man of the lot, although not the tallest is Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana. He carries more than 250 pounds on a six foot frame and was brought up on an Ohio farm. He served as governor of his state and made a good record.

The tallest man among the new senators is B. B. Howell, of Nebraska. He is six feet, two and a half inches tall and weighs 190 pounds, stands as straight as an arrow and is said to be as strong as he looks.

The youngest of the new Senators is Clarence C. Dill, of Washington. He is 38 years old is five feet eleven inches tall, weighs 180 pounds, is a blonde, good looking and a bachelor.

B. K. Wheeler, of Montana is two years older than Senator-elect Dill, weighs 180 pounds and is half an inch over six feet tall. He is a native of Massachusetts, who went west as a lawyer and is said to have amassed a fortune in the practice of his profession.

Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa's new senator, weighs 200 pounds and is five feet, ten inches tall. He never tasted liquor or tobacco and never swears. He is a farmer, a lawyer and a soldier, having served in two wars, and is a dead shot.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York's health commissioner, who now goes to the senate, is five feet eleven and one-half inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. He has an unusually large nose and they tell a story of him to the effect that after he had passed an one-eyed man in Old City, a veteran, restoring his sight after twenty-five years of blindness, the first thing the old man said when the bandages were removed was, "You are the handsomest man I ever laid eyes on, but where did you get that awful big nose."

Lynn J. Frazer, the Non-Partisan leaguer, whom North Dakota has sent to the senate, is also big. When he attended college he had a line position of the varsity football team and the great bulk of the man made his part of the line impregnable. He is a farmer who actually farms.

The Non-Partisan leaguers evidently take to big men for Henrik Shipstead, who won the election in Minnesota over his Republican and Democratic opponents, the latter a woman, is six feet, one and one-half inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. He is a dentist, his father was a Norwegian and he drives a silver Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware, whose father, his grandfather and other members of the family have been senators, is a six footer, weighs 200 pounds and is built like an athlete.

William C. Bruce, of Maryland and Karl B. Mayfield, of Texas are also said to be physical giants, but their weight or dimensions up and down.

Among the new senators who are small of stature, are Woolbridge N. Ferris, of Michigan and Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey. Mr. Edwards has a thin face and high cheek bones. Mr. Ferris stands five feet, nine and one half inches and weighs 155 pounds. Dr. Simeon B. Fess, Ohio senator-elect is also a comparatively small man.

Pennsylvania's two new senators, Pepper and Reed, present quite a contrast. Senator Pepper is a six footer, weighs 180 pounds and looks like the athlete that he is, while Senator Reed is only of medium height, is thin, slightly stooped and in marked contrast with his colleague.

The election on the whole produced a very interesting group of men for the upper branch of congress. Most of them were local figures prior to the election, but they will soon become national, providing they measure up intellectually to their physical proportions.

WORKING FOR SPECIAL TRAIN TO CLEARFIELD

There has been much clamor on the part of local citizens for a special train to Clearfield for Saturday of this week, in order that local fans might attend the annual football game between the DuBois and Clearfield high schools which is to be played at the County seat this season, says the DuBois Courier.

In order that the fans might not have to leave on the early 7 a. m. train, the local football management is making preparations for a special train that would leave DuBois at noon for Clearfield. There will be a petition at the Courier office today and another at the High School, and all who wish to make the trip should sign by this evening. The round trip will cost $2.

Unless 125 are signed today there will be no special train. Saul Mirkin of Clearfield, has arranged for a special dance to be held in the Dimeling Ball room on Saturday evening, and if the special train is taken to Clearfield, it will not leave the county seat until after the dance.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

That the Supreme Court ruling should exclude Japanese from obtaining citizenship in the United States is no surprise to anyone familiar with preceding decisions on the naturalization acts. But the process of reasoning by which a fundamental law is interpreted deserves the attention of citizens.

From 1790 onward the privileges of naturalization were confined to "free white persons," and in 1870 those of African nativity or descent were included. The General Naturalization Act of 1906 differed in wording but left the plain intention to perpetuate the rule in force ever since 1790, plus its single enlargement to take in Negroes.

Among many able Japanese arguments was one to the effect that the framers had in mind, originally, the exclusion of Negroes and Indians, as outside the designation, "white." The Supreme Court, on the contrary, maintained its functions to be to seek the intent of Congress and to give effect to it. Thus it became a simple matter of deciding whether Congress meant what it said in the earlier acts and if a suspicion is sufficient to evade the plain intent of that day; the Court assumed properly that if Congress had intended to make such a radical change in viewpoint Congress would have said so specifically and not have left it to surmise.

Quite apart from the Japanese exclusion question it is very interesting to see the Supreme Court recognizing in Congress the superior authority and defining its own functions thus sharply. One of the chief grievances brought against the judiciary has been the tendency to deprive Congress of the effect of its law-making efforts. The scrupulous regard, in this instance, for the simplest and most literal intent of Congress is the true function of the Supreme Court as most citizens view it and as all of them desire it to be construed.

Notwithstanding Emerson saying that "a foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," it does seem apposite to say that there is something inconsistent in Miss Alice Robertson's attitude when she heard of her defeat. She is reported to have said that she had learned in office that women should keep out of politics. It is a curious statement for a woman to make right in the face of the nineteenth amendment and considering the courtesy that Miss Robertson has had during her term of public service.

For men, as well as women, there is much that is disagreeable or worse in practical politics, and it shows the greater strength of mind not to run away from it, but to stay in and fight it out. Besides, even if it is a blunt question to ask, if Miss Robertson had won the election would she have declined the call of the electorate? The fact that she ran as a candidate is surely clear proof that she was willing to stay in politics a little longer if the luck had come her way.

Students of spiritism expect to solve the mystery of death, says a news item. Maybe so. But is death the greatest mystery, after all? Those who have fallen into the habit of alluding to it as such evidently overlook the possibility that life may be the greatest mystery. Dashing waves, lashing wind-twisting trees, rushing tempests, living, moving, struggling men—these things constitute real mystery.

The great mystery is not why men cease moving, but why men move and act and think, not why man stops breathing, but why he breathes—that is the real problem.

One is apt to jump at conclusions when looking over state election results. The popular impression of New Jersey is that it is predominantly wet, but an analysis of the vote shows that in every county except Hudson both Frelinghuysen and Runyan, the dry Republican candidates, ran ahead. In Hudson County alone were they snowed under by the heavy wet city vote. Senator elect Edwards, therefore, represents only one county, in whatever he may do on the prohibition question in the U. S. Senate.

and succeeded in getting his foot in it beautifully every time he opened his mouth. Judge Bell proceeded to lecture the young man before imposing sentence, telling him what a fine man his father was and he should not get into such trouble. With that Davy interrupted the Court and attempted to further explain his case. Judge Bell shut him off quickly by telling him he didn't want any more lies out of him. That he had a letter in his hands written by Kranitz before giving himself up in which he said he had been hired to haul the whiskey, and was to get $5 for his truck and $5 per case for each case delivered.

Davy again attempted to explain, when the Court said "Shut up. You're a liar and I don't want to hear anything more out of you. I intended to show you a parole after 30 days on account of your father, but you are now sentenced to pay $100 fine and six months in jail, and you'll stay there the full time."

Kranitz was convicted of bootlegging in DuBois last winter and paid a $25 fine and served 10 days in jail for that offense. That was more hard luck.

Sunday Schools Offered Help On Christmas By The Community Service

The first lecture session of the dramatic institute on Thursday evening last had attendance of 52, showing that there is a genuine appreciation of this opportunity offered by Community Service. Mrs. Hanley demonstrated with her model theatre the use of arras curtains, showing the general adaptability of that type of stage setting. At the session to-night which will be in the auditorium, the use of screens, pylons and draperies will be shown, alone and in combination.

All Sunday school entertainment committees and any who are now wrestling with the problem of Christmas programs are invited to make free of Mrs. Hanley's fund of experience and material in this line. The she is more than busy with the actual work of the institute, she will be very glad to have appointments with any who are working out their holiday schemes and a half hour with her would be of the very greatest help.

An interesting and valuable part of the institute is the dramatic library which Mrs. Hanley carries with her and which is available to any wishing to use it in the High School library. In it are more than 50 bound volumes and some 75 magazines, pamphlets and bulletins, under the following topics:—

Community drama and theatre.
The Little Theatre movement.
One act and full length plays, suitable for amateur production.

Technicalities of producing amateur plays—choosing, coaching, costuming, making up, lighting, setting etc.

Children's plays and their production for school and Sunday school, for the year around. General entertainments for the year around.

All the Dennison books on costume and the sewing way and paper flower craft.

the Ford roadster. Mr. Wells and his companions are certain that the driver knew he struck the man as his car swerved. The driver, however, immediately stepped on the gas, and ran rapidly away. Mr. Wells, also in a Ford, started in pursuit, but not before stopping to examine the injured man. In this manner he lost some valuable time and was unable to overtake the car that struck the man. Mr. Wells said that the fleeing car kept on toward Luthersburg.

The injured man wears a badge of the Improved Order of Red Men. The full extent of Mr. Beer's injuries cannot be estimated at this time, but his condition is quite serious.

Last night an operation was performed on Mr. Beer's head and his condition is regarded as fairly good. It was definitely established that the injured man is Charles Beer, a sister with whom he makes his home going to see him at the hospital, and the local tribe of Red Men, to whom Beer belongs, sending two men to remain with him all night.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

A Mother: Meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Daub of Ridge Ave., Wednesday afternoon, 2:30 November 22. A good attendance is desired.

Miss Isabel Smay, of Clearfield, who has been spending the summer with her uncle, Harry Leathers, at Nanticoke, returned to her home on Saturday.

John O. Conrad, aged about 52 years, died at the boarding house at the Crescent block on Friday morning. He had been ill more or less for the past three years, from a complication of ailments, principally pneumonia. He is survived by a wife and a number of children. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. Funeral Director Dover-Spike, having charge of the body. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

James L. Smith is having a fourteen foot concrete sidewalk put down in front of his store building at the corner of Meadow and Filbert streets.

The blouse factory is in need of more female help. There are more than fifty girls and women employed there now, but Manager Hipps informs us that he could use a number up to seventy-five or eighty. Present prospects indicate that this industry will be operated steadily through all the winter months.

William Freeman and a companion named Rafferty had the ill luck to go over an embankment with a Ford auto last Friday night, with the result of putting that gas wagon out of commission. Freeman received a bad cut on the back of one of his hands, and Rafferty escaped with a few bruises. The accident happened near the B. & P. railroad crossing not far from the upper Anderson Creek bridge.

Andrew Panco, a Slavishman, and a coal miner by occupation, died suddenly at his home on South Side Saturday night about 11 o'clock. He had worked in the mines all day Saturday and had not complained of being ill. He is survived by a widow and a few children. His age was about 53 years. No arrangements for holding the funeral had been made at this writing.

A little two years old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frankhouser residing at Nanticoke, died on Sunday morning at about our o'clock. The little fellow had been afflicted by a number of ailments, but an attack of croup and pneumonia was the direct cause of death. The body will be interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

Quite a number of the Friends Society gathered at the home of William Woodside last Friday evening and spent a pleasant hour listening to the talks of ministers from Baltimore. Curwensville friends went to Grampian on Sunday to attend a quarterly meeting. In that section there are a large number who still hold allegiance to the doctrine of that peculiar denomination.

The Cancer meeting held in the High School building last Friday evening was not near so well attended by Curwensville people as it should have been. The hour set for the gathering was rather late in the evening was one reason that the number gathered there was not large. Dr. Weil, of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Stewart of Clearfield, were the principles in addressing the people, although short and pointed talks on the subject were made by our local physicians. Those who were absent missed a theme containing a world of valuable information that the entire populace in this community ought to possess in order to combat successfully the cancerous elements of the disease in its first stages.

Measrs Lewis McLaughlin and Paul Hummel motored from Endicott, N. Y. to Curwensville last Friday and spent several days with Kith and kin. They started on their return trip today.

Relatives received the announcement on Saturday evening that Mrs. William Rankin had died in Indiana county. She was the mother of Dean Rankin, who was killed a few years ago at the railroad crossing at foot of Filbert street.

Mrs. Dr. Ake after an absence of some months in Philadelphia, returned to her Curwensville home for the winter.

If the people of this town had a desire to learn something to their interest and advantage it would be well for them to stretch a point and attend some of the Friday afternoon literary sessions held in one of the High School rooms. There are certainly some interesting educational features brought out in these exercises.

It has been noticeable for several weeks past that bread wagons from other towns have lessened considerably in number from a month ago. The most plausible reason for this seems to be the fact that Curwensville housewives are baking their own bread instead of buying from those who handled baked bread. Flour has dropped in price within reach of all and that fact, combined with the cooler weather, may have had a certain tendency to change the aspect in the bread trade.

It has come to our notice that the old covered bridge at the mouth of Anderson creek is in an unsafe condition and that motorists who are compelled to travel in that direction and across it, tremble in fear of their life and limb. Since the street thru South Side has been closed the old bridge has been used unceasingly, and it was pretty shaky before that time. Heavy trucks hauling from three to five ton of coal used this route about all summer, and those weights passing through the bridge shook its timbers from stem to stern. We are not just clear whose duty it is to look after this structure, whether it be the county or this borough, but whose ever it is something will have to be done soon to strengthen Poor Eyesight.*

Poor old Uncle Jeremiah, he certainly had his share of eyeglass troubles. Rather early in life his eyesight showed signs of failing. From awkwardly peering over reading glasses he took to fumbling with two pairs, and from two pairs he changed to ordinary bifocals with the conspicuous lines and humps across their lens surfaces. At each change Uncle became more discouraged.

One day somebody told him about Kryptok Glasses. Perhaps he doesn't enjoy life now!

CONGRESS IS AGAIN IN SESSION WITH "WETS" ACTIVE

Revive Proposal to Pay
Adjusted Compensation
By a Tax Laid On
2.75 Beer and Ciders.

A SHORT SESSION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Congress is again in session. At noon today the Senate and the House began their work on the day after the adjournment of the last session.

The "wet" bill, no time as result of the going on in the last election to start their work going. No sooner was the House in session than Representative John Philip Hall of Maryland proposed the re-enactment of the federal income tax as passed by the first Congress but vetoed by the President with an amendment providing for the payment of the bonus out of a fund to be created by a tax of twenty per cent. per gallon on 2.75 beer and ciders. Representative Britton of Illinois will introduce a similar measure.

Only short sessions were held today. The Senate adjourned early out of respect to the late Senator William of Georgia who died since the last session. A picture of interest was Mrs. W. J. Jackson of Georgia, the first woman to sit in the U. S. Senate. The "grand old lady of the South" with her gray hair and "beaming" face, she seemed to enjoy the session immensely. Both parties, as a result of the session, are in a state of confusion. The House will adjourn today. The extra session of the 67th Congress in preparation for the 12th elections when a Presidential election is to be held.

Among the subjects to come before the Senate today will be the bill for appropriation for the Department of the Interior, a bill credits bill for (Continued on Page 4).

PEDESTRIAN HIT NEAR DUBOIS BY COWARDLY DRIVER

Charles Beers Is Found
Unconscious On Road
After Being Hit By Rapidly Running Car.

IN SERIOUS SHAPE

DuBois, Pa., Nov. 20.—A man whose name was believed to be Alexander Beers is at the DuBois hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries, his condition being regarded as serious.

The body of Mr. Beers was found lying on the highway between Radaker & Hand's store and Peters Crossing on South Brady street last night about 8 o'clock. It was seen that he was seriously hurt and he was at once taken to the DuBois hospital and given surgical attention. An envelope was found in his pocket with the name Alexander Beers on it and this is the identification established at the present time.

There is considerable uncertainty as to how Mr. Beers came by his injury. A small boy of the neighborhood stated that Mr. Beers was struck by an automobile that was speeding along that thoroughfare just after dark. This lad states that the car struck Mr. Beers and kept on speeding never slackening its speed.

George Wells, who was a witness to the accident, supplies some details in regard to it. Mr. Wells was almost at the scene of the accident when it happened and had just remarked that it was a difficult thing to get past a car with brilliant lights, especially to avoid hitting anyone along the road. Just as he said this a car with brilliant lights came along from the direction of Luthersburg, and a Ford roadster traveling along running from DuBois. Beers, or whoever the man may be, was walking out in the road along the street car track, and was struck by (Continued on Page 4).

SENATOR NEWBERRY QUITS TO AVOID BEING OUSTED

Washington, Nov. 19.—Sen. Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, whose right to a place in the Senate has been subject of controversy, has submitted his resignation with a request that it become effective immediately.

In a letter to Governor Gorsebeck, made public here tonight, Mr. Newberry said he had been impelled to retire voluntarily because of the defeat of his Republican colleague, Senator Townsend, in the late election. The turn of events, he said, would make it futile for him to attempt to continue his public service, "since he would be hampered by partisan political persecution."

Reviewing the outstanding features of the controversy growing out of the election four years ago, he declared his right to a seat in the Senate had been fully confirmed. He added that if in the future there seems to be opportunity for public service he would not hesitate to offer himself to his state and country.

The resignation brings to an end a fight which already had made history. Convicted in Michigan of a conspiracy to violate election laws, Senator Newberry appealed to the Supreme Court which declared unconstitutional the statute under which he was accused.

The Senate itself confirmed his title to a seat by a margin of five votes. In the campaign just closed the case was an issue in many states. Confident that as a result of the election they had gained sufficient strength to give them a clear cut majority, Senators who voted last January to deprive Mr. Newberry of his seat had planned to bring about another vote in the controversy early in January and possibly force the issue to another vote before March 4.

DUBOIS MAN TRIED ONCE TOO OFTEN TO EXPLAIN TO JUDGE

Davy Kranitz, Driver of Cargo of Booze Into Curwensville, Draws a Six Month Sentence.

TELLS A WILD TALE

Davy Kranitz, of DuBois, is one quite well satisfied young man that is playing in hard luck this weather or recently, if one is to take his word for it, and according to the tale Davy unfolded in answer to District Attorney Arnold's questions when the DuBois man appeared before Judge Bell Saturday on his plea of guilty to the charge of illegally transporting liquor.

On June 15th last Kranitz drove into Curwensville with a truck load of booze. Chief of Police Guy Clark and Constable Eli Korb suspected the outfit and a little quiet investigation disclosed the contraband cargo and truck and cargo were taken into custody.

Not so the wily Davy, however, as that gentleman managed to elude the officers and sort of just oozed through their fingers, so to speak, so close were they to nabbing him.

Davy's native haunts knew him no more from that time until about two weeks ago when a longing for the bright lights and show places of the third rate city which is rapidly becoming a suburb of Pottsville, overcame him and he returned and gave himself up to the law, entering a plea of guilty to the charge.

Saturday was the day fixed for Davy's hearing and sentence and the tale he told on the witness stand goes to show just how hard Davy's hard luck was. In admitting his part in transporting the liquor into Curwensville Davy accounted for his lapse from grace or bounden duty by saying that he was the victim of a peculiar circumstance. On the fatal June 15th he was driving along the road toward Curwensville with his empty truck when he happened to meet up with a fellow at a point near Zach Marsh's farm whose truck had broken down. This broken down truck contained ten cases of liquor. The stranded booze peddler thereupon forced Davy to load the whiskey in his truck and haul it into Curwensville. And while he knew he was violating the law (again) he was powerless through fear of the other man to refuse, and the capture of his truck and cargo by the officers followed.

When he arrived at Curwensville and after his truck had been seized he was still frightened and like a scared rabbit, when the officers sought to put their hand on him, he just naturally jumped right out of there.

Despite the fact of his plea of guilty, Davy was quite chipper on the stand, appearing to have got over his fright, and told the District Attorney they appeared to be wanting to make a mountain out of a mole hill.

When called up for sentence, Davy was still in a bellicose frame of mind (Continued on Page 4).

SUNDAY FIRE WAS PROMPTLY PUT OUT BY QUICK RESPONSE

The fire alarm was sounded at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon for a fire which was discovered in the attic of the home of Nick Colosi on Weaver street near the Clearfield park. The firemen made their usual prompt response to Moore's stentorian bawling, but the fire had gained such headway before being discovered that it took hard fighting to save the house and contents from destruction.

The firemen by quick and effective work confined the flames to the attic, which was pretty well scorched, while a large section of the roof was burned off.

The fire started in the attic presumably from a defective fuse. The fire and water damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

KU KLUX KLAN OF THIS STATE ASKS FOR FAIR HEARING

We knew it would happen. The Progress has received a letter from the Ku Klux Klan. And we are not going to change our ways, stop beating our respective wives or leave the country within twenty four hours as many have been requested to do, according to press dispatches during the past year or two.

For this letter is of a different nature, and is signed by a real honest-to-goodness man, Sam G. Rich, King Kleagle of Pennsylvania, who says he will stand responsible for the Klan and its doing in this state.

Really when the letter was opened and the initials K. K. K. greeted our eyes on the top of the letter head we experienced a sinking sensation in the cereal pit and things grew hazy, we heard so much of these alleged bad men, but it turned out to be only a plea for fair play and an unprejudiced trial.

But here is what Mr. Rich, King Kleagle, has to say: Read it and judge for yourself.

G. A. Stewart, Editor,
Clearfield Progress.

"The activities of the Ku Klux Klan of Pennsylvania have become such a force for good in the civic life of the State that they deserve and command recognition and attention from all true American citizens."

Little has appeared in the public press concerning these activities except notes of meetings where was displayed the "fiery cross" or condemnation for lawless acts credited to the Klan. No such act has been or will be committed by members of this organization. The principles upon which the organization is founded absolutely forbid the taking of law into our own hands. The Klan does stand for law enforcement and law observance, and the whole force of its membership, made up of the best citizens of the State, is working indefatigably to bring about the enforcement of laws that today are being flagrantly violated.

The Klan stands for 100 per cent Americanism and for the enforcement of American laws. It is determined that these principles shall prevail in America and that right shall rule.

The Klan seeks to bring about this state of affairs by only legitimate and lawful means—by exposing crookedness and law-breaking in high officialdom and by working for the election of men who will stand for righteousness and the carrying out of the will of the majority.

To the end that the great newspapers of this great State may get first hand, truthful and unbiased news of the Klan's activities, aims and objectives, written, published as news and free from propaganda, a publicity director for the Ku Klux Klan of Pennsylvania has been appointed. He is a newspaper man of long experience with some of the biggest journals in America. Through him, after it has been approved by the executive officers of the Klan, you will receive news of what the Klan is doing.

Such publicity will be sent you on the official stationery of the Ku Klux Klan of Pennsylvania, and I will be personally responsible for its authenticity. It then shall remain for you to judge its news value.

I bespeak the same broad and unbiased judgment and treatment of such news as you show in the editing of your excellent newspaper.

SAM D. RICH

Wisconsin to Seek Insurance Against Labor Unemployment

La Follette Followers Plan To Put Through Measure In the Coming Legislature

By HERBERT LITTLE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 20. (United Press)—Wisconsin first state to adopt the workmen's compensation law, will be asked next January to be the first to adopt a parallel scheme to insure workers against unemployment.

The "La Follette" progressive" republican faction is expected to pass the labor unemployment prevention bill, introduced in the 1921 session and defeated by a narrow margin. John R. Commons, professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin, author of several economic texts and author of the Wisconsin compensation act, drew up the proposed measure.

The bill provides that any working man who has worked for six months and who is unemployed through no fault of his own will be paid $1 each week day during a period not to exceed 12 weeks. Public employment efforts will be maintained and at any time the workman who is receiving compensation can be compelled to accept a position secured for him by this board or for other compensation.

Administration of the bill will be put in the hands of the state industrial commission, which administers the workmen's compensation acts and other industrial statutes.

The money to pay jobless men will come from insurance policies which each employer will be compelled to take out against the unemployment of his force, in the same way as employers in Wisconsin and many other states are compelled to insure their employees against accidents.

The insurance will be underwritten by a mutual insurance company provided it is to be formed by the employers. This feature of the bill was said to have been responsible for its defeat through the efforts of the insurance lobby at the 1921 session.

Under this provision, as the unemployment decreases, the premiums grow smaller at once.

The entire measure is based on Professor Commons' theory that unemployment is preventable. In this respect it is different from the unemployment measures in Great Britain, Belgium, Switzerland and Italy, which are based on the theory that unemployment is an inevitable evil. The European measures, Commons says, are merely a form of charity for the workman. The American Association of Manufacturers, whose members employ a large percentage of the labor of the United States, concede that unemployment is preventable, Commons says.

The bill is one of the first insurance measures to be supported by the Wisconsin federation of labor.

HALL-MILLS CASE GOES TO THE GRAND JURY EARLY TODAY

Sommerville, N. J., Nov. 20.—The Hallis-Mills murder case goes to the Grand Jury today with Wilbur M. Mott starting the proceedings which is expected to result in the indictment of the "woman in gray" and her "bushy haired" male accomplice. The proceedings will be slow. First the request of Mrs. Francis Hall, widow of the slain clergyman, that she be permitted to appear before the grand jury to tell her story will be discussed and a decision made. This alone may require several days. Among the fifty witnesses summoned Charlotte Hall, daughter of the slain choir singer was the first summoned.

Raymond Schneider, the youth who with Pearl Balmer, found the "slain bodies, will be the first witness. His testimony will be only for the purpose of satisfying the law as to the death of the two persons as he is held now on a charge of perjury in connection with his phoney confession.

All Give Bail for Court
Among Those Arrested
Is Constable of First Ward, A. C. Edwards.

CLEAN-UP BEGINS

County Detective Snyder, appointed only a few days ago by District Attorney Arnold, appears today in a man of action. On Saturday, night when some darkness he paid a visit to the county seat and as a result of his findings caused four arrests to be made on charges of violation of the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The parties against whom Detective Snyder sweeps out warrants are A. C. Edwards, Tatum Marco, Joe Harnar and Mrs. Harnar, the first two residents of the First Ward and the latter couple from the Fourth Ward. Bail for court was given in each instance and full details of the arrests and the specific charges which caused the arrests will not be available until the cases come to trial.

These arrests, the first to be made by the new county detective, are said to represent the beginning of a vigorous campaign against bootlegging by District Attorney Arnold, who and a score has been thrown from the local Bootleggers' Association. The roundup in Washington night was made with the assistance of local officers.

An unusual start to the arrest of A. C. Edwards, constable for the First Ward, as the pointee of District Attorney Arnold, by Detective Snyder, a more recent appointee.

QUICKSAND ENGULFS MAN IN SWAMP; HIS RESCUE IS TIMELY

Camden, N. J., Nov. 19.—Saved from a mire of quicksand into which he had sunk up to the neck, William Collings, aged fifty, of New York City, is in the Cooper Hospital today in a critical condition from exposure and his harrowing experience. His feeble cries for help were answered by a policeman who found him sunk into a swamp of mud half a mile and three hours were consumed in getting ropes under his armpits, by which he was dragged from his earthly prison.

FRANK BACON, WHO PLAYED IN DUBOIS DIES SUDDENLY

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Frank Bacon, one of the most widely known actors on the American stage as the result of his success in the part of "Bill Jones" in "Lightnin'" which he helped to write, died at his hotel here today. He was 53 years old. He had been a sufferer with arterio-sclerosis for some time.

"DEMON" DICK DETAILS DOINGS DOWN EAST AND UP STATE ON THE GRIDIRON

By DICK LEIPOLD.
Last Saturday was a great day for Pennsylvania football in both college and schoolboy ranks. Dope was upset, gridiron history made, and at least a score of teams raised to championship standing. Fighting spirit and an unyielding whistle to whistle drive enabled many an underdog to come through with victories.

W. and J., undefeated for two seasons, victor over Lafayette two weeks ago at the Polo Grounds and looked upon as one of the strongest Eastern eleven, was humbled by Pitt, 19 to 6. Pitt had lost two early season games to Lafayette and West Virginia, and were not generally conceded to have the smallest chance of winning over Neal's Presidents. Coach Warner's Pitt machine proved that a team can not live on its past record. End Jordan of the Panthers scored a touchdown. Jordan is a former Punxsutawney High School basketball star.

By defeating Yale 3 to 0, Princeton University finished their schedule undefeated or tied. Starting the season with material that the football stars proclaimed "just ordinary," Coach Bill Roper developed a machine that improved with each passing game. Roper does not believe in bringing a team up to top form during the early season games. Consequently, the Tigers' early season wins did not flatter to the world the latent power they possessed, and it was not until the fighting Nassau outfit dropped Chicago 21 to 19 at Chicago that Princeton's greatness was recognized. Princeton stands out as the one great, yet undefeated Eastern team playing a truly tough schedule.

Cornell's 48 to 14 conquest over Albright College enabled the big Red machine to keep its record unmarred. The Ithicans, under Gil Dobie's tutelage, have not lost a game in two seasons. Eddie Kaw, all-American halfback last fall, is still playing his sensational type of game that won the coveted "all" position. The Cornell squad will go to Franklin Field, at Philadelphia, to meet Penn on Thanksgiving Day. If Pennsylvania can stop Cornell, Princeton will be the only unbeaten team in the East, and probably will be awarded the mythical Atlantic Championship.

Home Classic Schoolboy Clashes.
Greensburg High's mighty machine won the State championship by defeating Harrisburg Tech 27 to 20 at Harrisburg. The scoring strength of Greensburg against Tech at Harrisburg shows what Clearfield was up against at Greensburg.

Steelton High, highly touted as one of the best scholastic aggregations in Pennsylvania, was shut out, 19 to 0, by Williamsport High School. The Steelton never had a show, which makes the Red and Black's near-win over the downriver city all the more impressive. It also proves that the brand of football that Clearfield High is offering is on a par with the best home state schoolboy outfits in Pennsylvania.

school that the entire West should be proud of. When a team in any section of the country gets far enough advanced to claim a championship in any sport, the Cedar Rapids High School looms up, challenges, and wins from the best of them. These athletic westerners carried off national high school honors in truck and basketball last season. Last Saturday they journeyed east to Toledo, Ohio, and defeated Waite High, unbeaten organization, 25 to 13. The Iowans must have a phenomenal team, for to win from Waite, who had previously beaten Harrisburg Tech 52 to 7, is a job that some of the smaller colleges would shirk from attempting.

Clearfield Scrubs Win Saturday.
With all the regulars in civilian clothes, Coach Reed sent his second eleven in against the Patton High gridders. Although the Cambria county lads had it on the locals in size, the junior varsity won, 13 to 0, in a game that was as interesting as the score would indicate. The second stringers put up an advanced type of football, offering a good offense, both aerial and orthodox, and tackled like veterans. The locals' scores were made through the line by Carns and Rowles. Carn droppedkick the extra point. Some promising men are on the scrub eleven, and by next season should develop into bright stars. The second string stars of the Patton clash are too numerous to individualize. A glance at the line-up will suffice, as every man shone. These fellows are responsible for the regulars' fitness. They are like the unheeded sparring partner who is cuffed about night after night to develop a champion. If the scrubs were to quit, the varsity would go to pieces in a couple of weeks.

YOUR BACK ACHE?
After Grip, "flu" or cold, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.
This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.
Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.
Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of Anuric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and bladder remedy).
Many folks in town could testify as does Mr. Kane.

Head Coach Eddie Treadwell of DuBois and several of his varsity gridders viewed the C. H. S.—Patton game. This scouting party learned or saw nothing to aid the county metropolis team's preparation for C. H. S. next Saturday.

Lock Haven's management were so pleased with Mr. William Reading's work as referee in the Clearfield-Lock Haven game that they secured him to officiate the Windber-Lock Haven game at Lock Haven Saturday. Bill is one of the most efficient officials in the State and Clearfield is fortunate in having a man of Mr. Reading's type associated with the local staff. Bill is square, considerate of situation, and always lays down the law as it is. His decisions are final—and correct.

Among the coming Thanksgiving activities none is creating more interest than the Annual Thanksgiving dance to be given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Clearfield Hospital at the benefit of the hospital.

The various committees are working hard and it promises to be one of the most brilliant social affairs of the coming season.

Misses Mildred and Mary Evans and Leonard Evans spent Sunday with Mr. Evans' wife in Munson.

METHODIST CHURCH EVENTS

Eleventh St. church was the center of interest for Methodist men in a movement started yesterday afternoon. It was a tri-church visitation, and it began popular with the first announcement. Trinity and West Side churches sent over a large representation, with Eleventh Street's own, made a full house.

When male voices let go in songs that have an answer in or spring from the heart, pre is singing that stirs and thrills add to that warm-hearted praying then appealing speeches by seven men that know what they want say and put it direct, there is a sense of uplift and inspiration. Curkville sent down five of its person-workers—Messrs. S. C. Watts, Shirhearer, Hess and Dale, who spoke to some of the spirit that now is associated with the church life in town. Then Buchanan and Boyce Junior, had their say. Next day the visitation will be to Try church.

Trinity church will be in advance by attendance and in school yesterday, which wound out by a splendid song by Harry W. Jones, the music le. Large communion with music. The League service was in attendance. At night a service that roused the entire fence opened the meeting—forty voices. Choir loft full and pulpit led to capacity. Then singing that the folks that seldom sing attempt it. Splendid choir select and a solo by Mr. Jones, entitled Old Rugged Cross. Commu, then an altar service. One son asking prayers. People bow about and grouped themselves latter benediction. At Mount Rev. G. R. Alban was in charge le communion, preaching to the of a company that filled the house.

The choir worked in Mr. Jones.

WELL KNOWN MINING MAN MARRIES

Philipsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—This (Saturday) morning, November 18th at 7 o'clock, Miss Martha Ann Myers of this place, was married to Mr. Charles E. Sharpless, of Ebensburg.

The ceremony took place in the Presbyterian church and was conducted by the Rev. John T. Scott, pastor of that church, the ring ceremony being omitted. The bride wore a navy blue velvet suit with beaver collar and cuffs and a black satin soled hat.

Miss Myers has made her home in Philipsburg for many years where she is very well known and highly esteemed. Mr. Sharpless is a well known mining and consulting engineer and is employed in that capacity by many of the largest coal mining companies in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. He was a resident of Philipsburg for many years.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony by automobile for Tyrone, from which place they will go to Philadelphia, Washington D. C., New York and other places of interest in the east. They will make their home in Ebensburg where they have a home already furnished. They expect to be away about two weeks.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Whatever may be the popular judgment regarding the intellectual caliber of United States senators elected by direct vote of the people, as compared with the former method of electing them by the legislatures, there can be no question about the physical dimensions of the lawmakers, we are getting nowadays.

At the recent election more than a dozen new men were elected to the senate and they will make their first appearance in the upper legislative body when the next congress convenes a little over a year from now. With one or two exceptions, they are physical giants, most of them over six feet tall.

Probably the bulkiest man of the lot, although not the tallest is Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana. He carries more than 250 pounds on a six foot frame and was brought up on an Ohio farm. He served as governor of his state and made a good record.

The tallest man among the new senators is B. H. Howell, of Nebraska. He is six feet, two and a half inches tall and weighs 190 pounds, stands as straight as an arrow and is said to be as strong as he looks.

The youngest of the new senators is Clarence C. Dill, of Washington. He is 38 years old is five feet eleven inches tall, weighs 180 pounds, is a blonde, good looking and a bachelor.

B. K. Wheeler, of Montana is two years older than Senator-elect Dill, weighs 180 pounds and is half an inch over six feet tall. He is a native of Massachusetts, who went west as a lawyer and is said to have amassed a fortune in the practice of his profession.

Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa's new senator, weighs 200 pounds and is five feet, ten inches tall. He never tasted liquor or tobacco and never swears. He is a farmer, a lawyer and a soldier, having served in two wars, and is a dead shot.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York's senator, is five feet eleven and one-half inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He has an unusually large nose and they tell a story of him to the effect that after he had passed an eye test for an Old Guard veteran, restoring his sight after twenty-five years of blindness, the first thing the old man said when the bandages were removed was, "You are the handsomest man I ever laid eyes on, but where did you get that awful big nose?"

Lynn J. Frazier, the Non-Partisan leaguer, whom North Dakota has sent to the senate, is also big. When he attended college he had a line position of the varsity football team and the great bulk of the man made his part of the line impregnable. He is a farmer who actually farms.

The Non-Partisan leaguers evidently take a big man for Henrik Shipstead, who won the election in Minnesota over his Republican and Democratic opponents, the latter a woman, is six feet, one and one-half inches tall and weighs 157 pounds. He is a dentist, his father was a Norwegian and he drives a flivver.

Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, whose father, his grandfather and other members of the family have been senators, is a six footer, weighs 200 pounds and is built like an athlete.

William C. Bruce, of Maryland and Earle B. Mayfield, of Texas are also said to be physical giants, but the biographical sketches do not give their weight or dimensions up and down.

Among the new senators who are small of stature, are Woodbridge N. Ferris, of Michigan and Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey. Mr. Edwards has a thin face and high cheek bones. Mr. Ferris stands five feet, nine and one half inches and weighs 155 pounds. Dr. Simeon B. Fess, Ohio senator-elect is also a comparatively small man.

Pennsylvania's two new senators, Pepper and Reed, present quite a contrast. Senator Pepper is a six footer, weighs 180 pounds and looks like the athlete that he is, while Senator Reed is only of medium height, is thin, slightly stooped and in marked contrast with his colleague.

The election on the whole produced a very interesting group of men for the upper branch of congress. Most of them were local figures prior to the election, but they will soon become national, providing they measure up intellectually to their physical proportions.

WORKING FOR SPECIAL TRAIN TO CLEARFIELD

There has been much clamor on the part of local citizens for a special train to Clearfield for Saturday of this week, in order that local fans might attend the annual football game between the DuBois and Clearfield high schools which is to be played at the County seat this season, says the DuBois Courier.

In order that the fans might not have to leave on the early 7 a. m. train, the local football management is making preparations for a special train that would leave DuBois at noon for Clearfield. There will be a petition at the Courier office today and another at the High School, and all who wish to make the trip should sign by this evening. The round trip will cost $2.

Unless 125 assigned today there will be no special train.

Saul Mirkin of Clearfield, has arranged for a special dance to be held in the Dimeling Ball room on Saturday evening, and if the special train is taken to Clearfield, it will not leave the county seat until after the dance.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young!

Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

That the Supreme Court ruling should exclude Japanese from obtaining citizenship in the United States is no surprise to anyone familiar with preceding decisions on the naturalization acts. But the process of reasoning by which a fundamental law is interpreted deserves the attention of citizens.

From 1790 onward the privileges of naturalization were confined to "free white persons," and in 1870 those of African nativity or descent were included. The General Naturalization Act of 1906 differed in wording but left the plain intention to perpetuate the rule in force ever since 1790, plus its single enlargement to take in Negroes.

Among many able Japanese arguments was one to the effect that the framers had in mind, originally, the exclusion of Negroes and Indians, as outside the designation, "white." The Supreme Court, on the contrary, maintained its functions to be to seek the intent of Congress and to give effect to it. Thus it became a simple matter of deciding whether Congress meant what it said in the earlier acts and if a suspicion is sufficient to evade the plain intent of that day; the Court assumed properly that if Congress had intended to make such a radical change in viewpoint Congress would have said so specifically and not have left it to surmise.

Quite apart from the Japanese exclusion question it is very interesting to see the Supreme Court recognizing in Congress the superior authority and defining its own functions thus sharply. One of the chief grievances brought against the judiciary has been the tendency to deprive Congress of the effect of its law-making efforts. The scrupulous regard, in this instance, for the simplest and most literal intent of Congress is the true function of the Supreme Court as most citizens view it and as all of them desire it to be construed.

Notwithstanding Emerson saying that "a foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," it does seem apposite to say that there is something inconsistent in Miss Alice Robertson's attitude when she heard of her defeat. She is reported to have said that she had learned in office that women should keep out of politics. It is a curious statement for a woman to make right in the face of the nineteenth amendment and considering the courtesy that Miss Robertson has had during her term of public service.

For men, as well as women, there is much that is disagreeable or worse in practical politics, and it shows the greater strength of mind not to run away from it, but to stay in and fight it out. Besides, even if it is a blunt question to ask, if Miss Robertson had won the election would she have declined the call of the electorate? The fact that she ran as a candidate is surely clear proof that she was willing to stay in politics a little longer if the luck had come her way.

Students of spiritism expect to solve the mystery of death, says a news item. Maybe so. But is death the greatest mystery, after all? Those who have fallen into the habit of alluding to it as such evidently overlook the possibility that life may be the greatest mystery. Dashing waves, lashing winds, twisting trees, rushing tempests, living, moving, struggling men—these things constitute real mystery.

The great mystery is not why men cease moving, but why men move and act and think, not why man stops breathing, but why he breathes—that is the real problem.

One is apt to jump at conclusions when looking over state election results. The popular impression of New Jersey is that it is predominantly wet, but an analysis of the vote shows that in every county except Hudson both Frelinghuysen and Runyan, the dry Republican candidates, ran ahead. In Hudson County alone were they snowed under by the heavy wet city vote. Senator elect Edwards, therefore, represents only one county, in whatever he may do on the prohibition question in the U. S. Senate.

DuBois Man Tried

and succeeded in getting his foot in it beautifully every time he opened his mouth. Judge Bell proceeded to lecture the young man before imposing sentence, telling him what a fine man his father was and he should not get into such trouble. With that Davy interrupted the Court and attempted to further explain his case. Judge Bell shut him off quickly by telling him he didn't want any more lies out of him. That he had a letter in his hands written by Krantz before giving himself up in which he said he had been hired to haul the whiskey, and was to get $5 for his truck and $5 per case for each case delivered.

Davy again attempted to explain, when the Court said "Shut up. You're a liar and I don't want to hear anything more out of you. I intended to allow you a parole after 30 days on account of your father but you are now sentenced to pay $100 fine and six months in jail, and you'll stay there the full time."

Krantz was convicted of bootlegging in DuBois last winter and paid a $25 fine and served 10 days in jail for that offense. That was more hard luck.

Sunday Schools Offered Help On Christmas By The Community Service

The first lecture session of the dramatic institute on Thursday evening last had attendance of 52, showing that there is a genuine appreciation of this opportunity offered by Community Service. Mrs. Hanley demonstrated with her model theatre the use of arched curtains, showing the general adaptability of that type of stage setting. At the session to-night which will be in the auditorium, the use of screens, pylons and draperies will be shown, alone and in combination.

All Sunday school entertainment committees and any who are now wrestling with the problem of Christmas programs are invited to make free of Mrs. Hanley's fund of experience and material in this line. The she is more than busy with the actual work of the institute, she will be very glad to have appointments with any who are working out their holiday schemes and a half hour with her would be of the very greatest help.

An interesting and valuable part of the institute is the dramatic library which Mrs. Hanley carries with her and which is available to any wishing to use it in the High School library. In it are more than 50 bound volumes and some 75 magazines, pamphlets and bulletins, under the following topics:—

Community drama and theatre.
The Little Theatre movement.
One act and full length plays, suitable for amateur production.
Technicalities of producing amateur plays—choosing, coaching, costuming, making up, lighting, setting etc.
Children's plays and their production for school and Sunday school, for the year around. General entertainments for the year around.
All the Dennison books on costume and the sewing wax and paper flower craft.

Pedestrian Hit

The Ford roadster. Mr. Wells and his companions are certain that the driver knew he struck the man as his car swerved. The driver, however, immediately stepped on the gas, and ran rapidly away. Mr. Wells, also in a Ford, started in pursuit, but not before stopping to examine the injured man. In this manner he lost some valuable time and was unable to overtake the car that struck the man. Mr. Wells said that the fleeing car kept on toward Lethersburg.

The injured man wears a badge of the Improved Order of Red Men. The full extent of Mr. Beech's injuries cannot be estimated at this time, but his condition is quite serious.

Late last night an operation was performed on Mr. Beech's head and his condition is regarded as fairly good. It was definitely established that the injured man is Charles Beech, a sister with whom he makes his home going to see him at the hospital, and the local tribe of Red Men, to whom Beech belongs, sent two men to remain with him all night.

BEAUTIFUL CARVING SETS

We have some beautiful Carving Sets for you to use when you sit down to carve that bird on Thanksgiving. We have them in a variety of styles and we want you to come in and look at them. They are made in such a way that the handles fit the hand and the blades are of highly tempered steel that will hold an edge. Then, we have steels included so that if you run into a bone and turn the edge while you're carving, you can put an edge right on. They're priced very moderately, too.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

A Mother's Meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Daub of Ridge Ave., Wednesday afternoon, 2:10 November 22. A good attendance is desired.

Miss Isabel Smay, of Clearfield, who has been spending the summer with her uncle, Harry Leathers, at Nanticoke, returned to her home on Saturday.

John O. Conrad, aged about 52 years, died at the boarding house at the Crescent brick works Friday morning. He had been ill more or less for the past three years, from a complication of ailments, principally pneumonia. He is survived by a wife and a number of children. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. Funeral Director Dover-spoke, having charge of the body. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

James L. Smith is having a fourteen foot concrete sidewalk put down in front of his store building at the corner of Meadow and Filbert streets.

The blouse factory is in need of more female help. There are more than fifty girls and women employed there now, but Manager Hipps informs us that he could use a number up to seventy-five or eighty. Present prospects indicate that this industry will be operated steadily through all the winter months.

William Freeman and a companion named Rafferty had the ill luck to go over an embankment with a Ford auto last Friday night, with the result of putting that gas wagon out of commission. Freeman received a bad cut on the back of one of his hands, and Rafferty escaped with a few bruises. The accident happened near the B. & P. railroad crossing not far from the upper Anderson Creek bridge.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickly by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

died suddenly at his home on South Side Saturday night about 11 o'clock. He had worked in the mines all day Saturday and had not complained of being ill. He is survived by a widow and a few children. His age was about 53 years. No arrangements for holding the funeral had been made at this writing.

A little two years old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frankhouser residing at Nanticoke, died on Sunday morning at about our o'clock. The little fellow had been afflicted by a number of ailments, but an attack of croup and pneumonia was the direct cause of death. The body will be interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

Quite a number of the Friends Society gathered at the home of William Woodside last Friday evening and spent a pleasant hour listening to the talks of ministers from Baltimore. Curwensville friends went to Grampian on Sunday to attend a quarterly meeting. In that section there are a large number who still hold allegiance to the doctrine of that peculiar denomination.

The Cancer meeting held in the High School building last Friday evening was not near so well attended by Curwensville people as it should have been. The hour set for the gathering was rather late in the evening was one reason that the number gathered there was not larger. Dr. Weil, of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Stewart of Clearfield, were the principles in addressing the people, although short and pointed talks on the subject were made by our local physicians. Those who were absent missed a theme containing a world of valuable information that the entire populace in this community ought to possess in order to combat successfully the cancerous elements of the disease in its first stages.

Measrs Lewis McLaughlin and Paul Hummel motored from Endicott, N. Y. to Curwensville last Friday and spent several days with Kith and kin. They started on their return trip today.

Relatives received the announcement on Saturday evening that Mrs. William Rankin had died in Indiana county. She was the mother of Dean Rankin, who was killed a few years ago at the railroad crossing at foot of Filbert street.

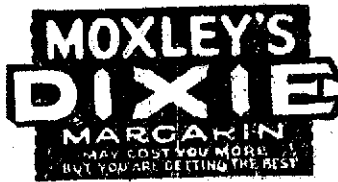

Mrs. Dr. Ake after an absence of some months in Philadelphia has returned to her Curwensville home for the winter.

If the people of this town had a desire to learn something to their interest and advantage it would be well for them to stretch a point and attend some of the Friday afternoon literary sessions held in one of the High School rooms. There are certainly some interesting educational features brought out in these exercises.

It has been noticeable for several weeks past that bread wagons from other towns have lessened considerably in number from a month ago. The most plausible reason for this seems to be the fact that Curwensville housewives are baking their own bread instead of buying from those who handled baked bread. Flour has dropped in price within reach of all and that fact, combined with the cooler weather, may have had a certain tendency to change the aspect in the bread trade.

It has come to our notice that the old covered bridge at the mouth of Anderson creek is in an unsafe condition and that motorists who are compelled to travel in that direction and across it, tremble in fear of their life and limb. Since the street thru South Side has been closed the old bridge has been used unceasingly, and it was pretty shaky before that time. Heavy trucks hauling from three to five ton of coal used this route about all summer, and those weights passing through the bridge shook its timbers from stem to stern. We are not just clear whose duty it is to look after this structure, whether it be the county or this borough, but whose ever it is something will have to be done soon to strengthen

The Store That Puts The "Y" In Home And Makes It "Homey"

We have the furniture in oak, walnut, mahogany, and other finishes for every room in your home. We can supply your kitchen with linoleum, either two or four yards wide, or linoleum rugs, kitchen cabinets that are a joy to the women, and that enameled range that never needs the weekly "shine." To see them is to make you wonder how the women of yesterday ever lived without them.

The Dining Room with a rug that rests the eye, an American Walnut Dining Suite, buffet, china cabinet, round or square table, and chairs to match—who could resist an invitation to dine amid such surroundings with a genial host if there be good things to eat. Our store can supply you with your needs in this line at prices so low you cannot afford to be without them.

For the bedroom we can show you the iron beds in White, and Mahogany Enamel, in Brass, in Walnut, Oak, Mahogany, and other finishes with Dressing Tables, Dressers, Chiffoniers and Chairs to match the finish. We handle the Silk Floss Mattress and Hercules Springs. Equip all your bedrooms with these modern comforts and be assured that all in your home are resting well when sleep time comes.

Then, look to that Living Room where you entertain your friends. Let us supply you with the latest Over-stuffed Suite, the Davenport Table, Electric Floor Lamp and Luxurious Chairs and Rockers, and the Rugs for this room. You will find it is easy to keep those boys and girls at HOME if you add the "Y" and make it HOMEY. If we don't have what you want we'll get it for you.
